

WELLS FARGO RULES

Materials:

Socks – one per person

6-8 foam yoga bricks (stuffed animals would work well)

Two circular banks are set up. (a hula hoop works great for this)

Each player fully tucks in their shirt and puts a sock in the back of their pants. If an enemy player pulls your sock, you must freeze, though you may pivot around one foot. You may resume motion upon either retrieving a sock, stealing one from a passing enemy, or receiving one from a teammate. There are no sides; anyone may pull a sock from the other team anywhere on the playing field. If your sock is pulled while carrying other socks, you must forfeit all your carried socks to the puller.

You must carry bricks from the enemy's bank to your own. You may only carry one brick at a time. If your sock is pulled while carrying a brick, you must place it down in front of you, there is no throwing of bricks. While in the enemy's bank, you are safe from having your sock pulled for ten seconds.

The first team to get all six/eight bricks into their bank wins.